LORD ROBERTS ADVICE TO YOUNG CANADA.

Speaking at a farowell reception tender ed him at Ottawa, Field Marshal Lord Roberts gave utterance to some words or sound advice to the young nation which is expanding so lustily in the northern portion of North America. Having expressed corded him at the Quebec tercentenary fêtes, the veteran Field Marshal pro-

From all that I had heard and read of Canada I formed large expectations of what the country would be like, and these have been more than realised. No country I know of has such a magnificent approach as Canada has in the strength of the noble river which ensures Montreal such a great commercial future. No other country has such a vast extent of unoccupied land only waiting to be taken up by people of grit and fibre to show its marvellous fertility. I have been captivated by the glorious scenery of the St. Lawrence and the simple pic uresqueness of Quebec. I have been equally impressed by the imposing buildings and streets of Montreal and by the stately Parliament Houses of Ottawa, with their quite unique position on the banks of the Ottawa River.

THE DUTY OF MILITARY TRAINING. Even the little I have seen shows me that the resources of Canada are practically boundless, and that, in the ordinary course of development, she must inevitably become one of the important countries of the world. May I be excused if I remind those whom I have to-day the honour of addressing that, as Canada grows in wealth and prosperity, her responsibilities will increase? And may I express the earnest hope that, as time goes on, her rulers and people will be fully alive to the necessity 816 of making adequate arrangements to meet those responsibilities? Believe me, it is not unnecessary to say this. Nations have often forgotten this need in times of great material prosperity. If we look back at past history-and history is the surest guide we shall find the downfall of all great nations from Phoenicia to the Netherlands was brought about by their failing in this essential duty. Flourishing and prosperous as these nations were, they fell easy prey to those who coveted their riches, because they had neglected to take the most ordinary precautions and refused to undergo the personal sacrifices needed to insure the security of their valuable corsessions.

In my judgment it is absolutely essential, even at the present day, for the safety and welfare of a nation that the whole male population should be prepared to take a share in its defence in times of danger. Training should, I think, begin with the tween the ages of ten and eighteen. I am delighted to learn from Sir-Frederick Borto the 30th June, 1968.

The TRANSF R BOOKS of the Com- den, the Minister of Militia, that the been made in Nova Scotin. I trust that this example will speedily be followed by all the other provinces, for I am satisfied that the results of such a training-the habits of order, obedience, and punctuality the boys will be taught-will be of the greatest use to them in all the occupations of civil life. I believe the advantages of such a training would be so manifest that public opinion would soon reach the point where it would demand that all able-bodied mon on attaining the age of eighteen should complete their training so as to fit themselves to take a part in the defence of their country should their services ever be needed. This would be an easy matter, and would interfere very little with their civil avocations after a thorough training had been undergone in boyhood; and the 1049 would be of inestimable value, whatever the individual career might be.

TRUE ATHLETICS. There is another point about which I would like to say a word. I notice that (Continued on Page 3.)

DISBANDED CHINESE

SOLD ERS.

The deplorable and dangerous practice of dislanding soldiers in the heart of a dis-] turbed district, and at a distance of many anidreds of miles from their homes, is survival of a barbarous custom which is likely to cost China great sacrifice of blood and treasure. Of all provinces in the empire, Yunnan and Kwangsi are precisely those where every possible safeguard against a general uprising of the disaffected has to be effectually maintained. In many districts of these provides, however, soldiers have been dishanded and there are now to be noted signs and tokens of a smouldering insurrection which is ready to break out immediately the slightest occasion presents itself. The general experience is that disbanded soldiers mu perforce ally themselves with the dangerous classes. They are welcome recruits already existing robber bands or they become the nuclei of fresh companies of de-peradocs. Travelling, by land water, which, under proper administration and control might be rendered comparatively safe in a short time, becomes increasingly dangerous everywhere. The West River, the great highway of traffic between Hongkong, Canton ! and Kwangsi, is almost continuously the scene of piratical raids, there being no security for life or property along its course. Much of the responsibility for this state of things lies at the doors of those who countenance the practice complained of above. It is well understood that China list, there is no chance of his promotion, consequently, admires. * * * Tocannot move forward in the path of reform no chance of his sharing the privileges in- day, many people, not knowing or not by regular steps of progression. American occupation to be able to say whether or not this book presents a truthful picture. But this we can venture to say, without fear of contradiction, Mi Stanley Portal Hyatt's book will undoubtedly evoke a good deal of discussion whorever American men and women foregather together. He is evidently a man no given to mineing words and his indictment of the civil commission and its policy of "the little Brown Brother" is very scathing. But if he has nothing but contempt for the political jerrymandering of the civil administration, he is liberal, may elequent, in his praise of the military and tal) are relegated, rejoice in the ame constabulary. "The Little Brown Brother" is founded on the author's observations as a correspondent in the Philippines during ing, and at some place other than the the last Filipino revolt in Samar, and interesting from the fact that Mr Hyatt wan the only journalist who succeeded in cluding the vigilance of the Government and ranching the front, an achievement which was far from agreeable to the political warepullers who were are the vivid descriptions he gives of the inglerious fighting in mangrove swamps, up tidal rivers and in little seaside towns, which fell to the share of the brave soldiery and constabulary, practicially unsupported by the civil commission. Here and there the note of "the dominant white" is pitched in too high a key, while we could have done with a few less contemptuous references to mestizos and mestizas and the coloured man generally. But on the whole the author has told a story possessing great charm and fascination, and throughout it is written in good, nervous English. His hero Derek North and his heroine Clare Westley are splendid creations and one follows the development of their love-affair with almost breathless

(To the Editor of the 'CHINA MAIL.') Sir,-Those who, last evening, at the Happy Valley, were endeavouring by way of relaxation after the stress and turmoil of the day to "get little balls into little holes with implements ill-adapted to the purpose," or to guide the reluctant China Pony round 'the race course, found that their respective recreations had to be taken to the accompaniment of a brass band composed of four or five youthand energetic buglers whose persistency appeared only to be equalled by the diversity of their opinion as to

THE FAKUMEN RAILWAY.

Basing its comments on a note in the Mainichi Dempo, the Jupan Mail says that Japan has it in contemplation to make some concession with regard to the Fakumen Railway. She does not admit that anything in her pravious attitude has been unwarranted by her treaty with China, but for the sake of neighbourly relations, she is not unwilling to make some compromise. Our contemporary hints at another railway concession being thrown into the scale, but there is nothing to intimate the locality of the concession. It is added that Japan's plan will not take definite shape until careful conferences have been held between the Ministers of State for Foreign Affairs and for Communications, and the new Japanese Representative in Peking. We give this rumour for what it may be worth. It would be very welcome news to learn that this Fakumen problem had been solved. There has been a singular determination on the part of Englishmen to take a one-sided view of the matter, and we can only conclude that they have been influenced by the untiring campaign which the concessionaries have carried on. The fact is, however, that, and English public opinion may be said to have pronounced against Japan in this matter. if Count Komura can devise some means of

A BROKEN-DOWN SYSTEM. This is a condition (or disease) to which doctors give many names, but which few of them really understand. It is simply weakness—a break-down-as it were, of the vital forces that austain the system. No matter what may be its causes (for they are almost numberless), its symptoms are much the same; the more prominent being sleeplessness, sense of prostration or weariness, depression of spirits and want of energy for all the ordinary affairs of life. Now, what alone is absolutely essential is all such cases is increased with the wigour VITAL STRENGTH & ENERGY to throw off these morbid feelings, and experience proves that as night succeeds the day this may be more certainly secured by a course of the celebrated life-reviving tonic THERAPION No. 3 than by any other known combination. So surely as it is taken in accordance with the printed directions accompanying it, will the shattered health be restored. THE EXPIRING LAMP OF LIFE

Which Brought Him Relief from Affection of Face and Forehead -Tried Several Other Remedies and Consulted Two Physicians.

IN MIDST OF BUSY LIFE SENDS LETTER OF PRAISE

DUNKIRE VICARAGE, FAVERSHAM, July 10, 1907 "Dear Sir: - I am very busily engaged in preparation for the reopening of our parish church which has delayed my reply to your recent letter. I may tell you that I have been vicar of this parish since January 1854, and am now in my eighty-fifth year. My ailment affected my face and forehead. It commenced five or six years ago and I had recourse to several remedies and consulted two physicians. After a while I happened to read an advertisement about Culicura and determined to give it a trial. So I began with the Cuticura Soap, then purchased Cutieura Ointment, then added the Resolvent, for which I have substituted the Pills. Now I consider myself virtually cured and neither trouble doctor, nor myself, nor any one else about skin affections. I have much pleasure in recommending Cuticura Remedies. I use no other soap but Cuticura for my face and hands.

"Yours very truly, W. J. Springett."

ECZEMAS And Other Itching, Torturing Humours Cured by Cuticura. Warm baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment afford instant relief in the most distressing forms of itching, burning, scaly, crusted humours, eczemas, rashes, inflammations, irritations, and chaffings of infancy and childhood, permit rest and sleep and point to a speedy and permanent cure, in the majority of when all other remedies fail. Send to nearest depot for free Cutieura Book on Treatment of Skin Diseases. Cationia Remedies are sold throughout the world. A startle Set often Cures.
